In a district 7 session of coaches and officials here last night basketball tournaments were awarded and officials elected by the organization. The Senior A boys' tournament will be held at Nashville, Senior B at Prescott Senior Girls at Mountain Junior boys at Gordon and Junior girls at Garland.

Jack Clemens of Magnolia was elected President of the organization. B. Smith of Prescott, vice president and Kelly Pickett of De Witt, secretary.

Tournaments will be held the last part of February and the first two weeks of March.

Porkers Drop Another to Baylor Cagers

WACO, Tex. (AP) — The University of Arkansas failed to protect its lead in the Baylor game last night. Baylor came on to defeat the Razorbacks, 33-59, in a 10-minute overtime game.

The Razorbacks were ahead 35-32 at the half and 48-40 a minute before the end of the third period when the Bears made their move.

The close Arkansas got for the remainder of the game was 60-50 on third Floyd Sayley's goal with 55 seconds left. But guard Stacey Cole got one and forward Murray Bailey two free throws to Baylor 59 close out the scoring.

Forward Buddy Smith and guard Gerald Barnett led the Razorbacks with nine points each.

Injury Faking Frowned on

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — Injury faking by football players to stop a kick is being studied by the National Football Rules Committee.

There is a possibility some action may be taken to prevent it.

"I don't know how we can legislate against it," said Committee Chairman O. (Bud) Crisler of the University of Michigan, "but there are many things that could be done to prevent such faking."

"We could, for instance, stop the game after each play in the last 10 minutes of the first and second halves. Or we could let it run during those periods."

The discussion was inspired by the Iowa-Notre Dame game last season which ended in a 14-14 tie. In the closing seconds of the game, the Irish came from behind and scored touchdowns when players claimed injuries.

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market broke away from a four-day pattern of decline today and managed to work moderately higher.

The outside of the advance went to around 2 points, but such extensive gains were rare. Losses were fractional.

Most major divisions of the market were higher or quietly steady. No single division was outstanding for activity.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK (AP) — Cotton futures were steady today in quiet trading. The market showed rallying tendencies in early dealings on active trade and commission house buying, but when the demand was satisfied prices backed away from the day's best levels. Some demand was credited to covering against export business.

Late afternoon prices were unchanged to 30 cents a bale higher than the previous close. March 33.28, May 33.46 and July 33.35.

GRAN AND PROVISIONS

CHICAGO (AP) — Grains drifted lower on the Board of Trade today with soybeans and corn failing the most.

An increase in offering of cash corn and soybeans by the country was considered the main factor behind weakness in these commodities. In addition, deliveries of cash soybeans on January contracts have been running relatively large.

The market started out firm and then quickly went into its slide. Purchase of wheat by West Germany, extremely cold weather in the Midwest and rumors government-owned cottonseed oil might be shipped to Iron Curtain countries failed to sustain demand.

Wheat closed 1/2 lower, March 2.09-2.09 1/2, corn 1 to 2 cents lower, March 1.52, oats 3/4-1 1/4 lower, March 78-1, rye 1-1/4 lower, March 1.19 and soybeans 1 1/2-3 lower, Jan. 3.03 1/2-3.04.

Wampler Comes Through at L. A.

By JACK STEVENSON
LOS ANGELES (AP) — The difference between winning the national intercollegiate golf title and the Los Angeles Open is quite simple, says the fellow who has won both.

"There was a $4,000 check here," explained youthful-looking Fred Wampler of Indianapolis, who yesterday steadied a shaky game in the rain and held off several challengers to win the $20,000 open by a stroke. He had 281 for the 72 holes.

Wampler, 30, a 150-pounder whose build and style are reminiscent of Ben Hogan, won the NCAA title in 1950 as a senior at Purdue after three times taking the Big Ten crown.

thought we were doing wrong, particularly after one of the kids got the idea of keeping minutes of the meetings."

Then Frank decided to create a family corporation to rule on all family questions with each member being allowed one vote for each year of his age.

The current voting status is as follows: Frank, 32; L.J., 37; young Frank, 17; John, 15; Tom, 13; Mary, 7; Theresa 4; Paul, 1; Bill, 1.

Currently the senior partners are able to out vote the junior member of the Blair corporation 75 to 59 in a showdown, but Frank says it doesn't often come to that.

"The kids don't vote as a bloc against us," he said. "The first thing we found out is that they won't take advantage of a situation if you give them a sense of participation. That is the wonderful thing about children—their real sense of honesty and fair-mindedness."

The family corporation meets every Sunday. The members vote fines and penalties and punishments, decide questions like what type of new car to buy and where to spend vacations.

The kids have routine chores they are expected to perform, but are paid for extra duties such as baby sitting. Each member of the family pays a penny a week for each year of his age, and the pot is divided among the kids just before Christmas each year, including as a bonus the money chipped in by Dad and Mom. Lil acts as treasurer by popular demand.

"I don't know whether it would work with every family," said Frank but this corporation game has helped bring us closer together, and we all have learned a great deal from it.

"It has given us a real insight into our children's minds. Really opened a new world to us. You can't push your kids out the front door, tell them to come back in three hours and then forget them. That is how they get into trouble. Our have to find a way to give them something to do — and a feeling of responsibility."

85 Escape in Collapse of Building

OTTUMWA, Iowa (AP) — An estimated 85 men escaped death when the second floor of the Masonic hall at the nearby hamlet of Abington collapsed last night.

The men and furnishings, including a heavy piano and a red hot coal stove, slid more than 20 feet to the ground floor in a scene of fantastic disorder.

Sixteen persons were taken to hospitals but only three were hurt severely. The others were treated and released.

Dee Leddom, an Ottumwa fireman present at the meeting, said: "There was no warning. Just as lodge closed and most of the people in the room got up, the floor collapsed in the center."

Leddom said the floor split lengthwise. Both sections fell to the bottom, leaning in such a manner as to dump the people and contents of the upstairs room into a trench about three feet wide at the bottom.

Clouds of dust arose. There were screams and some trampling of persons. But the ceiling lights of the upstairs room remained on.

"There were chairs, big desks, an old heavy piano and a coal stove with a fire in it which fell with us," Leddom said. "The stove was red hot and it spilled glowing coals onto the floor."

Leddom said some persons did not fall because they were in a second floor anteroom at the top of the stairway.

Apparently no one had an unsupported fall, Leddom said, because they slid down the collapsing floors 75 pitched crazily at about a 75 degree angle.

Leddom said it was a miracle no one was killed.

Leddom and Bill Amos, also of Ottumwa, fell near each other and came to rest one on each side of the piano. One Mason was pinned under the piano. Leddom and Amos lifted it slightly and he crawled out apparently unhurt.

Leddom said he and Amos were near the rear of the hall and the stove spilled its coals just beyond them. The fire was put out with buckets of water. No one was burned.

One man was pried loose with crowbars when his foot was caught under the fallen floor.

The second floor room where the floor collapsed was 30 feet wide and 80 feet long. The walls of the building did not collapse.

McCarthy May Divide His Probers

By G. MILTON KELLY
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) said today his Senate investigations subcommittee may divide forces and run separate, simultaneous searches for Communist and non-Communist skullduggery.

He said he plans to start tomorrow secret hearings launching an investigation of alleged graft and corruption in government spending in Alaska. He has declined to give details or to name witnesses in advance. But he did say the inquiry has "no overtones at this point of Communist activity."

Still planned, but with no date set, he said, are further hearings in his search for evidence of Communist infiltration of industrial plants in New York state which hold government defense contracts.

He said he or some other member of the all-Republican subcommittee may sit as a one-man subcommittee at Albany, Schenectady, Syracuse or Buffalo, N. Y., and perhaps in all four cities to complete that phase of inquiry. He mentioned a possibility of moving those hearings to Washington. He had presided at hearings in Buffalo late last year and recessed with an announcement he would return — to reopen them.

Cherry Urged to Commute Sentence

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Francis Cherry said yesterday he generally has been urged to commute to life imprisonment the death sentence of Indian Bill Jenkins, convicted slayer of a 16-year-old Hot Springs car-hop.

The governor said that of all the letters he had received in Jenkins case, he could remember only one which "demanded" that Cherry carry out the death sentence as affirmed by the Arkansas Supreme Court.

Jenkins was convicted of first degree murder in the fatal shooting last year of Cleo Jones.

Cherry said Sheriff Will Lowe of Garland County, Chief Deputy Sam Richards and Hot Springs Detective Chief Jerry Watkins wrote that Jenkins was drunk and apparently "doped" when he was arrested shortly after the slaying.

The governor says he still hasn't made up his mind.

Fire Destroys Benton School

BENTON (AP) — Fire flashed through seven class rooms of the Benton High School last night causing an estimated $60,000 to $75,000 damage.

Benton, Little Rock and Bauxite fire departments fought the blaze for about three hours before controlling it.

Lowell White, member of the school board, estimated the damage at $60,000. The fire was not detected until about 10 p.m.

Priest Welcomes Death by Cancer

PARSONS, Kan. (AP) — "I consider it a privilege to die of cancer."

The Rev. Julius Busse uttered these words from his bed at Mercy Hospital here, and explained:

You see with cancer you have time to prepare for death. With something like a heart attack, you go too quickly to make your final preparations."

Smiling, but speaking matter-of-factly, the 46-year-old Catholic priest said yesterday in an interview:

"I welcome death."

Death is no stranger to the priest, an Army chaplain five years. He served with the 7th Division in World War II.

"It isn't the certainty of death that mean fear," he said. "It is the uncertainty of death. The soldiers I saw die weren't frightened any longer after they knew for sure they were going to die."

After his service in the Army he was a rector at Louisville, Ky., and Detroit.

In September 1952, he resigned his post at Detroit, intending to go to Japan to set up a Passionist monastery. But illness halted his plans. He came to Parsons and underwent surgery for cancer. His health has been fading since.

Public Warned of Insurance Chiselers

WASHINGTON (AP) — D. Paul Magnuson said today there are "many chiselers" among companies that offer health insurance policies to the public.

Magnuson, former medical director of the Veterans Administration, mentioned to firms by names in testimony prepared for a House Commerce Committee hearing.

The committee is making a study of research being conducted on various major diseases. It also is seeking to find the best ways of enabling people to meet the costs of illness.

Magnuson, who headed former President Truman's commission on the nation's health said the insurance firms he criticized but fine print into their policies, excluding from coverage the big medical expenses that "break the back of the average wage-earner."

He praised President Eisenhower's proposal for a system of limited government reinsurance to "permit the private and non-profit insurance companies to offer broader protection to most of the many families which want and should have it."

Magnuson said that under such a system, private plans would be able to "extend their services and still be protected from financial rough."

Rockefeller Gives to Hospital

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Winthrop Rockefeller's gift of $50,000 got fund-raising drive for $750,000 to expand Arkansas Baptist Hospital off to a flying start here last night.

The millionaire Standard Oil heir, now a resident of Arkansas, spoke at the meeting along with Gov. Francis Cherry.

The proposed 1 1/2 million dollar expansion project calls for an increase of 125 beds from the present 305-bed facilities. Half the money will be put up by the Arkansas Baptist State Convention; the other half through public subscription.

Cherry told some 1,150 attending the dinner that hospitals "should be the first responsibility" of Arkansas citizens.

Special Court to Hear School Issue

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — A three-judge federal court will convene Jan. 29 in New Orleans for the trial of a suit filed by four Negroes seeking admission to Southwestern Louisiana Institute, a college at Lafayette.

The office of U. S. Clerk of Court Alton C. Curtis mailed notices of the trial late yesterday to Gov. Robert Kennon, Atty. Gen. Fre LeBlanc and officials of SLI. The suit attacks the legality of the state constitution provision calling for separate Negro and white schools.

Missing Man Denies He Was Hiding

DENVER (AP) — Emer L. Fordyce, 24-year-old Mississippi man, told a reporter he did not know a widespread hunt was underway to locate him and his family.

Fordyce, his 22-year-old wife and their small children apparently disappeared Jan. 3 after leaving Memphis, Tenn., and telling relatives they were bound for their home in Tupelo, Miss. A big air-land search was launched.

"I didn't even know they were looking for me," Fordyce said.

He told a reporter he came to Denver to seek a better climate for his sinus trouble and was looking for a job.

He said they drove here without notifying friend or relatives, but that he later wired Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Kelley of Memphis, where he had visited the day he left. The Kelleys are Mrs. Fordyce's parents.

"I don't know what all the fuss is about," Fordyce said.

After he left, Fordyce was charged by the Savings Oil Co., his employer, with embezzling $315 by cashing worthless personal checks.

Mrs. Kelley said she received a letter yesterday from her daughter saying they were living in Denver. She did not mention getting a wire.

When the letter was received, Fordyce's father, Ray Fordyce, rebuked the company. Henry Dodge, head of the company, dropped the charges.

Paraplegics May Have New Home

MEMPHIS (AP) — Two evicted paraplegics had a new home today. Charles Somerville, 21, Point Pleasant, W. Va., and John Murshon, 23, Otway, Ohio, were tossed out of veterans hospital last week for breaking regulations.

Yesterday a hospital attendant Dennis Whitten, 31, invited the men to move in with him and his family. They accepted. They had been staying in a nursing home.

Actress Rhonda Fleming has found that careful attention to dress and makeup alone may not produce good grooming. One must, she says, gear grooming to an outstanding feature. Miss Fleming spotlights her auburn hair by dressing simply in colors specially chosen for her coloring and by arranging her hair very simply. To retain her hair's flaming beauty between shampooes, she brushes it very thoroughly each day, using strips of gauze to catch any soil. Here she is shown (left) cutting gauze to fit over her hair brush. Then she (center) applies eye shadow. She uses just a touch of green shadow to enhance the beauty of her green eyes. Her grooming completed (right), the red-haired star slips on short, neat white gloves. Her dress is a two-piece costume in champagne, a color that blends beautifully with her ivory skin and flamboyant hair.

Sid Hoffman as co-hostesses.

In the absence of the president Mrs. H. E. Luck, Mrs. Harry Shiver conducted the business session. Reports were given on the Junior Garden Club Work by Mrs. Hoffman.

Mrs. H. O. Kyler presented the program on "Cultivation of Roses" assisted by Mrs. J. C. Carlton who told of the new 1954 All American Award Winners of Roses. A movie was then shown on "Cultivation of Roses" and "New Varieties of Roses."

The guests were then invited in to the dining room where they were served coffee and cake from a table centered with an arrangement of African Violets. Mrs. Sid Hoffman poured the coffee.

McClellan Confident Over Table Rock

WASHINGTON (AP) — U. S. Army Engineers yesterday verified the need for additional power in the Table Rock Reservoir area and Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.) said he is confident President Eisenhower will recommend additional budget funds for the project.
McClellan made the statement after studying the engineer report on the project.
Congress last year directed that a million dollars of the Table Rock fund be held up until they could make their survey to determine whether a power shortage exists in the area.

Charles H. Kelstead, a vice president of Sears, Roebuck and Co., Charles H. Kelstead of Atlanta, Georgia, in charge of the company's Southern territory, was awarded the Good Citizenship Award for 1954 by the National Retail Dry Goods Association in New York last night. It was announced today by Mrs. Alice Enoch, manager of the local Sears Catalog Sales office.

Crop Setup Under Ike's Program

WASHINGTON, (UP) — Here's how President Eisenhower's new farm program would apply to various crops:

WHEAT
A "substantial part" of the huge wheat surplus, in which the government has about $2,000,000,000 of price support funds invested, would be set aside as an emergency reserve and "insulated" from the market. Price supports would be held at 90 per cent of parity through 1954 but starting with the 1955 crop would be put on a sliding scale of 75 to 90 per cent of parity depending on supply. (Big crop, low supports; little crop, high supports. The transition to lower supports would be gradual with year-to-year changes in levels limited by the secretary of agriculture to spare farmers from any sharp drop. Gradual transition at a "modernized" parity formula beginning Jan. 1, 1958, with changes limited to five per cent a year.

COTTON
Substantially the same program as for wheat, plus repeal of present law requiring maximum use of planting controls before there is any drop in support levels.

CORN
Generally the same as wheat

Kentucky Is Best Bet to Stay Unbeaten

By RIP WATSON

NEW YORK (U) — College basketball nears the season's halfway point this week with the undefeated big five of Kentucky, Duquesne, Western Kentucky, Holy Cross and George Washington towering over the rest of the pack. Kentucky, better than ever after a year's enforced absence from the college cage scene, looks like the best bet to go through without a loss. The Wildcats, rated No. 1 team in the Associated Press poll, flattened Georgia Tech 105-53 Saturday night for their first Southeastern Conference victory since the conference's one-year ban was lifted.

Western Kentucky racked up victory No. 14 Saturday by turning back Murray (Ky) Teachers 57-43 in one of the lowest scoring games of the season.

Duquesne won No. 13 over St. Francis (Pa.) 94-64. The Dukes lived up to their No. 2 rating with a routine victory. Sub Fletcher Johnson led the scoring with 20 points.

Holy Cross, ranked seventh, and George Washington, like Kentucky, won their ninth game with an impressive display of power. Holy Cross rolled over little St. Anselm's 102-60, while George Washington solidified its role as Southern Conference kingpin by clouting Virginia Tech 73-40.

Gambling Conviction Is Upheld

WASHINGTON (U) —The Supreme Court today upheld the gambling conviction of a Maryland resident despite use of evidence admittedly obtained by illegal search and seizure.

At the same time, the court said the question of whether the illegal search and seizure violated rights under the U. S. Constitution was not before it.

The tribunal said the Maryland State Court of Appeals, which upheld the conviction, did not interpret the law involved as actually sanctioning illegal searches and seizures. Had it done so, the Supreme Court said, the question of constitutional rights "must arise."

Justice Burton who wrote the court's 7-1 decision did not apply this point. The high tribunal in the past often has upheld the right of state courts to make use of evidence which would be thrown out of federal courts on the grounds that it was obtained by illegal search and seizure.

Anne Arundel police who had no warrant used an axe to break into a room in a gambling raid on May 21, 1952. They seized racing forms and arrested Julius Salsburg. He was convicted in the county Circuit Court and got six months, plus a $1,000 fine.

Court Upholds Bond for Rubenstein

WASHINGTON (U) — By a 4-4 vote, the Supreme Court today upheld a decision permitting wealthy Serge Rubenstein to remain free on bail while he fights an order for his deportation as a draft dodger.

The decision, handed down by the U. S. Court of Appeals here, had been appealed to the highest tribunal by the Justice Department, which sought to revoke Rubenstein's bail and take him to Ellis Island.

The Supreme Court issued only a brief order today affirming the appeal court ruling and noting the tie vote.

Rubenstein was sentenced in 1947 to two years' imprisonment for draft dodging. In 1952 the government issued a deportation order against him, basing it on the draft dodging conviction.

AAA Admits Two New Teams

NEW ORK (U) — Richmond, Va., and Havana will be formally admitted to the Triple A International League today.

President Frank Shaughnessy said the session would be brief since both cities already have met the requirements laid down by the league.

The admission of Richmond, formerly a member of the class B Piedmont League, and Havana of the Class B Florida International circuit, increases the membership of the International to eight. The league had been reduced to six by the dropping of Springfield, Mass., and the transfer of the St. Louis American League franchise to Baltimore.

Little Change in Basketball Ratings

By RIP WATSON

NEW YORK (U) — Kentucky's powerful basketball team, voted top team in the nation in the Associated Press poll yesterday, wasted no time in living up to its high rating.

The Wildcats, winning the poll of sportswriters and broadcasters for the third week in succession, went out and trounced De Paul last night 81-63 for their tenth straight victory.

Duquesne, only 30 points behind Kentucky in second place, also confirmed its rating, trimming Cincinnati 80-60, and third-place Indiana came through with a 73-67 victory over Purdue.

The top three running in that order for the third successive week, enjoyed comfortable margins over the rest of the field in the fifth poll of the season. Kentucky was first on 25 of the 90 ballots cast and piled up 734 points in the 10-9-8 etc. scoring system.

Duquesne not only 17 first-place votes, but had plenty of seconds and thirds to wind up with 704, while Indiana totaled 671 and received nine No. 1 nominations.

The rankings were shaken only slightly all down the line in fact Oklahoma A&M was fourth and Western Kentucky fifth, just as they were a week ago. Holy Cross moved up one place to sixth and George Washington moved up to seventh from a tie for 12th before whipping Washington & Lee 84-53 for its 10th straight.

Oklahoma City swapped places with Duke, moving up to eighth while the Blue Devils dropped to ninth, and Minnesota fell from sixth to 10th after losing to Indiana Saturday night. Oregon State was the only team to fall from grace, plummeting from 10th to 20th after a 67-50 loss to Idaho.

The results (on 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis) with firstplace votes in parentheses:

1. Kentucky (25) 734
2. Duquesne (17) 704
3. Indiana (8) 671
4. Oklahoma A&M (8) 489
5. Western Kentucky (5) 441
6. Holy Cross (3) 262
7. George Washington (13) 191
8. Oklahoma City (4) 178
9. Duke 173
10. Minnesota 112
11. Tie between Wichita (1) and Kansas 103
12. Niagara 98
13. Seattle (2) 72
14. Rice 57
15. Louisiana State 55
16. Dayton 49
17. Colorado A&M 46
18. Illinois 41

Tip Renews Search for Slayer

LEXINGTON, Miss. (U) — A motorist's tip sent a posse of officers and armed farmers to a new area today in the hunt for Ed Noel, a 28-year-old Negro who killed three white men.

John Hartheck of Jackson told highway patrolmen last night he saw a Negro armed with a rifle standing beside a state highway 10 miles east of this central Mississippi town.

A dozen squads of patrolmen and sheriff's deputies raced to the scene, eight miles from an area combed by 500 men yesterday.

Hartheck's tip led posse leaders to believe Noel had broken out of the enclaved area Sunday night and was trying to get out of the vicinity.

"It was driving back to Jackson," Hartheck told a reporter at the scene, "when I saw two Negroes standing at the side of the highway. I thought one of them tried to flag me."

The officers picked up the second Negro whom they did not identify, and after questioning him said they believed Hartheck had been Noel.

Noel has been the object of a widespread hunt by 500 men since a series of shootings that began Saturday night at country store. Sheriff Richard Byrd said he believed Noel was a mental case.

Bobcats Capture HSTC Tournament

Hope's Bobcats won the Henderson State Teachers tournament last weekend with a 53 to 48 victory over Malvern in the Championship game. Back Row: Charles Halbert, Charles Bright and Coach Byron Thompson.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (U) — News that "Mysterious John" Montague is seriously ill in a Los Angeles hospital brings vivid recollections of what almost certainly was the wildest, most improbable golf match ever played anywhere in the world since the invention of the ancient Scottish game.

The date was Nov. 14, 1937, and the site the old Frash Meadow Club on Long Island. The principal figures were Montague, Babe Ruth, Babe Didrikson and Mrs. Sylvia Annenberg, a fair amateur player.

Though you might never have heard of Montague, he was the main attraction on that memorable day. The buildup that had preceded him in his first Eastern appearance would have done credit to Barnum. For more than a year the nation's sports fans had been intrigued by stories from the West about a fabulous figure who could drive a golf ball farther than any man living, and who shotfles and 82s over regulation courses.

Some of the most fanciful tales about the immensely powerful man who had appeared out of nowhere to stun Western witnesses declared he could shoot a prescribable score with a rake and a hoe. George von Elm, a former national champion, called Montague the world's greatest.

In the midst of the hullabaloo about the dimpled "mystery man," he had been called by the law and brought to Elizabethtown, N.Y., to face a seven-year-old charge of armed robbery of a roadhouse. They said he had been known around there under another name, but he was acquitted by a jury after a trial which drew national billing.

And so, less than three weeks later, Montague consented to make his public golfing debut in this charity match. He and Mrs. Annenberg were paired against the two Babes, and the sponsors hoped that several thousand fans might be induced to turn out in the week-end sunshine and help a worthy cause.

Their only bad oversight was in not surrounding the entire course with about a regiment of cavalry. An hour before the foursome was scheduled to tee off, the thundering herd had given up trying to reach the admission gate and was flooding in from all points of the compass. By the time Montague actually hauled off and hit on the immense crowd was packed solidly from tee to green on the first hole and was still coming.

Well, they had provided only about half a dozen marshals, and they had no ropes. Most of those in the crowd, fresh from the Bronx and Brooklyn, didn't seem to know what the fairway was for. They only knew whom they wanted to see. Within three holes the famous foursome was driving over the heads of the milling mob. After nine boisterous holes they gave up entirely.

It was estimated — we thought conservatively — that 12,000 persons tried to watch the match. Few of them saw anything. The two Babes were thought to have been 2 up when the fiasco ended, but you couldn't have proved it.

Under the circumstances, Montague deserved credit for hitting the ball at all. He looked like about a good, solid 80 shooter. There was no question that he could hit a terrific ball from the tee, but his irons obviously were erratic. Never again was the myth of his super-golf to be seriously revived. He gave the National open a whirl the following summer, but got nowhere, and from there on the stories you heard about Montague concerned his feats of strength, which must have been true.

CHAPTER TWENTY

DALE listened idly through world news lessened in impact by constant repetition. Her thoughts were half on the blue of a vet-filled field, half on the announcer's voice when she heard him say Lora Thornton's name.

As if drawn by a magnet, her eyes sought the dashboard. Shock held her still, listening. "Car out of control on a treacherous curve, crashed into stone fence... The driver, Miss Lora Thornton of Rockley, instantly killed..."

Dale turned the radio off. "It was an accident," she said wistfully. "It was an accident."

But the token self-assurance only deepened her certainty that it was not; that Lora Thornton had known exactly what she was doing when she crashed into that stone wall.

Dale plunged her face into her hands, weeping silently. Of all the forms of escape, Lora had chosen the final, the one of no returning. Finally the trembling of Dale's body stopped. Sharp in her mind was a cricket's chirp tearing the day apart, the rustle of a bird in the heat-parched grass. That these sounds registered clearly in her consciousness was evidence of the stilled motor. She lifted her face. Phil had drawn off the road, had pulled her against him. The solid warmth of his shoulder, the curve of his supporting arm were comforting.

She whispered, "I—I didn't mean to go to pieces." "I'm all at sea," Phil said. "Certainly it was nothing I said this time! I've been a Trappist monk for miles."

She shook her head. "This hasn't anything to do with you." "I'm not so sure about that. If you knew how seeing you cry tore me apart! We're not so detached, Dale. Other girls have cried on my shoulder, and it never did this to me before."

"I know I have," she said dully. "I believe she killed herself." "That's very silly of her," he said matter-of-factly. "You can be casual about it," she said. "I can't."

"I daresay suicide is the final refuge," he said after a moment. "It is also a very conclusive admission of defeat. A friend of yours?" "I only knew her a week. One night, we talked. I knew that she was desperate. Tormented. Perhaps I could have said something, done something more than I did. I don't know. Do you know what I did? I played Ethel Merman recordings, and told her that time would help. Why do we always fall back on that triteness?" "We use the top of our minds."

Actress, 23, Advises the 'Youngsters'

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—At the ripe age of 23, Anne Francis is handing out some advice to young actresses: "don't lose your glamor." Despite her tender years, Anne is an acting veteran. Born in Orlino, N. Y., she started as a fashion model before she was 5. She was in radio at 7, TV at 12 and was signed by MGM when she was 15. After appearing in only one picture, "Summer Holiday," she returned to New York. Then came appearances in summer stock and all the top TV dramatic shows, plus a movie, "So Young, So Bad."

Hollywood again called her, this time for a 20th Century-Fox contract. Great things were planned for her. She got the title role in "Mildred Bailey," a big costume drama. Then she got lost in the shuffle on the big lot. Now she is winding up her contract with a contract to RKO for "Susan Slept Here."

In her three years at 20th-Fox, she made only three pictures, and those in the first year, "I asked for it," "The Thing That Did It," and "I did it in 'Dream Boat,'" she remarked. "I played Clifton Webb's daughter, and the character was female Webb. Throughout most of the picture, she was a girl who wore glasses and lacked glamor."

"The picture was fun to do, but I don't think it was good for me. I think all the producers and di-

Relations of U. S., Russia Are Better

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower could justly claim before Congress today that relations with Russia appear slightly better than when he took office a year ago, but only very slightly.

Russia has agreed to talk about Germany and the atom. This time a year ago the United States talked the Soviets couldn't agree to talk on anything.

It's possible but questionable that some good will come of the talks.

Under stiff prodding the Russians recently agreed to a Foreign Ministers' meeting on Germany. Last night they said they would start making arrangements here for talks on Eisenhower's atom proposal.

The President went before the United Nations Dec. 8 with the suggestion the big powers discuss a plan for pooling some of their atomic materials and knowledge for peaceful use.

He didn't offer a plan but suggested that talking might develop one.

If the Russians, once the discussion starts, follow the line they've mentioned recently, the two countries will probably wind up just as deadlocked as they've been for seven years.

In 1946 the United States and Russia offered opposite ways of getting rid of the atom bomb.

The United States argued that before the two countries could agree on destroying atom bombs, each must promise to admit inspection teams to prevent cheating.

The Russians have balked ever since at the inspection idea.

Eisenhower's suggestion was to seek a new road: If the big powers could just agree on a plan to make peaceful use of the atom, maybe they could go on and some day agree on how to get rid of the bomb.

World reaction to his proposal was so good the Russians could hardly refuse although they delayed their acceptance, perhaps to find a way to put Eisenhower on

3-D Maps for Congressmen

By CHARLES F. BARRETT

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government has installed new 3-D maps to tell a congressman everything about the weather except how political winds are blowing in his home town.

A dedication service was scheduled today for the elaborate multi-colored weather maps just off the floor of the House and Senate.

Rain, snow or shine, two Weather Bureau experts show up at 9 a. m. every day to fill the big glass panels with red, yellow, white and green symbols which portray the weather from Mexico to Canada.

the defensive, where he had pushed them.

When they did reply they complained he hadn't said anything about outlawing atomic weapons. They asked consideration for their old bomb-banning plan, which meant agreement to ban first without agreement to inspect.

Then last week Premier Malenkov suggested agreement not to use the bomb, as a preliminary to agreement on getting rid of the bomb.

But mere agreement not to use the bomb in war wouldn't prevent either country from continuing to make bombs as fast as it could, just in case.

And both probably would. Neither, on a simple agreement without inspection, could ever be sure the other wouldn't suddenly break its word with a bomb attack.

At the moment the main military advantage this country can be said to have over Russia and it seems like only a temporary advantage, is that it has more bombs. It's been making them longer.

size of the armed forces. This also means that he is cutting down the Eisenhower is so reliant upon reduces expenses.

Unless it were sure, through inspection, that Russia couldn't make a sneak bomb attack, this country couldn't very well stop making atomic weapons, that would mean a complete change in defense plans.

And, without the defense of the bomb, this country and its Western allies would be at an immediate and huge disadvantage. They can't match in size the armed forces of Russia, the satellites, and Red China, because the latter have more men.

Search for Negro Killer Spreads

LEXINGTON, Miss., (AP)—Officers were "on the move" at daybreak today to scour a five-square-mile area for a Negro who killed three men and wounded two others in a shooting spree that began Saturday night.

"We should have something soon," the highway patrol in Jackson reported.

Officers and citizens who formed a 400-man posse were "broken up into raiding parties," to search the woods, the patrol said.

The posse formed a human chain around the wooded area last night, as temperatures dropped below freezing.

The hunted man was believed to be in his shirt sleeves, and was known to be armed with a .22 automatic rifle.

"He has to come out," a highway patrolman said, "and when he does we'll get him."

Sheriff Richard F. Byrd of Holmes County said the negro Ed Noel, an expert marksman who practiced by shooting matches from his wife's mouth.

He said Noel, who had never before been in trouble, apparently went berserk Saturday night in an argument with a storekeeper at the Coxburg community nearby.

Byrd said Noel killed the storekeeper, Willie Raymond Dickard, about 28. He said Dickard ordered Noel out of the store after an argument and quoted Noel as saying, "Well, I'll just kill the—"

Byrd said he and Deputy John Pat Malone, 65, went to the store to arrest Noel and the Negro jumped behind a bank and opened fire. Malone was hit in the head and died about two hours later.

Joe Stewart, a 33-year-old telephone company employee and member of the posse, was killed late yesterday when he and two others cornered Noel at his house. The other two, Andrew Smith and F.E. Hocutt were wounded.

They were shot when Noel broke from his house firing his automatic .22 rifle and fled into the woods.

Although chairs are of great antiquity, they were for many centuries used as a mark of dignity rather than as an article of ordinary utility.

Army to Hold Batchelor for End of Talks

Batchelor disclosed today that the U. S. Army plans to keep him here until after all the 21 pro-Communist war prisoners he left behind have had their final chance to come home.

The former ringleader of American, who chose self exile with the Communists said he has been told he would remain under interrogation in Tokyo for about one month.

The armistice deadline for prisoners to return is midnight Jan. 22. The 24-year-old Texan said he was making arrangements through the American consulate to register his 1949 Shinto marriage to Kyoko Arki, the Japanese girl whose love letters made him take the final step to break with the Reds New Year's Day.

"We'll go back to the states and see my family," he said. "But we haven't decided whether we'll live in Japan or in the States. Kyoko thinks it will be better for us to live in Japan."

"I'm considering staying in the army, but I don't know what I'll do yet."

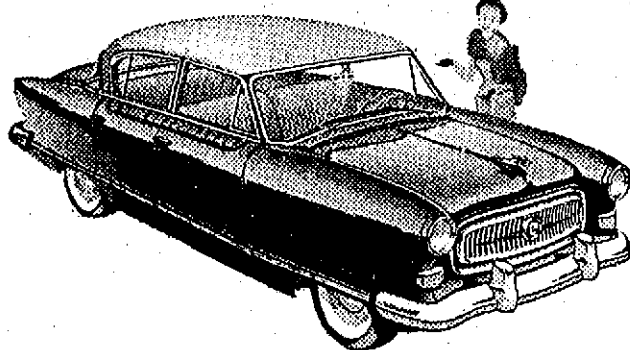

In an exclusive interview in his Tokyo army hospital room, the blond, soft-spoken soldier said he had assured the men he left behind that "there is no indication will be prosecuted" for siding with Communists, rejecting regular repatriation, or giving aid and comfort to the enemy.

"Kyoko and I have written letters to four of the men who are most likely to come back," Batchelor said. "I don't want to give out their names."
